3. Word Usage – Correctly using words in sentences

Real-Life Example:

Learning that “gigantic” means very big, and using it to describe a huge elephant in a story.

Remember This!

- A strong vocabulary makes reading, writing, and speaking much easier.

General Topic: Parts of Speech

Lesson Overview:

Parts of speech are categories of words that describe their role in a sentence, helping students form grammatically correct sentences.

Key Concepts and Subtopics:

1. Nouns – Names of people, places, things, and ideas
2. Verbs – Action words or state of being
3. Adjectives & Adverbs – Words that describe nouns or verbs
4. Pronouns – Words that replace nouns

Real-Life Example:

In the sentence “The happy dog runs quickly,” dog is a noun, runs is a verb, happy is an adjective, and quickly is an adverb.

Remember This!

- Knowing parts of speech helps you build clear and correct sentences.

General Topic: Sentence Construction

Lesson Overview:

Sentence construction teaches students to combine words into complete, meaningful sentences using proper grammar and punctuation.

Key Concepts and Subtopics:

1. Subject and Predicate – Who or what the sentence is about and what it does
2. Simple and Compound Sentences – Connecting ideas with conjunctions
3. Punctuation – Periods, question marks, and exclamation marks

Real-Life Example:

Writing: “The cat sleeps on the mat.” → complete sentence with subject, predicate, and period.

Remember This!

- A good sentence has a subject, a predicate, and correct punctuation.

General Topic: Reading Comprehension

Lesson Overview:

Reading comprehension develops understanding, interpretation, and critical thinking skills while reading texts.

Key Concepts and Subtopics:

1. Main Idea – The central thought of the passage
2. Supporting Details – Information that explains the main idea
3. Making Inferences – Understanding meaning beyond the words

Real-Life Example:

After reading a story about a lost puppy, a student identifies that the main idea is helping animals in need.

Remember This!

- Reading carefully and thinking about the text helps you understand stories better.

General Topic: Writing Short Paragraphs

Lesson Overview:

Writing short paragraphs helps students organize their thoughts and communicate ideas clearly in writing.

Key Concepts and Subtopics:

1. Topic Sentence – Introduces the main idea
2. Supporting Sentences – Details that explain or describe the topic
3. Concluding Sentence – Wraps up the paragraph

Real-Life Example:

Writing a paragraph about your favorite food:

“Pizza is my favorite food. It is cheesy and delicious. I like to eat it with my friends. Pizza makes me happy.”

Remember This!

- A paragraph is complete when it has a topic, details, and a conclusion.

General Topic: Listening and Speaking Skills

Lesson Overview:

Listening and speaking skills help students communicate effectively, understand others, and participate in conversations.

Key Concepts and Subtopics:

1. Active Listening – Paying attention, asking questions, and giving feedback
2. Clear Speaking – Pronunciation, volume, and tone
3. Conversational Skills – Turn-taking, asking questions, expressing opinions politely

Real-Life Example:

During a class discussion, a student listens to classmates and responds: “I agree with your idea because it helps solve the problem.”

Remember This!

- Good communication requires both listening carefully and speaking clearly.
